MONTHLY THOUGHT:

Manners are the lubricating oil of an organization. It is a law of nature that two moving bodies in contact with each other create friction. This is as true for human beings as it is for inanimate objects. Manners- simple things like saying 'please' and 'thank you' and knowing a person's name or asking after her family enable two people to work together whether they like each other or not. – Peter Drucker, Business Management Author

No better words than "thank you" have yet been discovered to express the sincere gratitude of one's heart, when the two words are sincerely spoken. -Alfred Montapert, Philosopher.
